Community health impacts EVERYTHING: educational achievement. Safety and crime, people's ability to work, there financially stable, life expectancy, happiness and more. The level of wellness impacts every other facet of life, from a child's ability to learn to an adult's ability to work thus making one's overall health critical for education and financial well-being. Thriving Communities (TCH) is designed to address these disparities via education, counseling, partnerships and programs. TCHI is a network of education programs, mental and physical health services, substance abuse counseling, and health care navigators to walk participants through the healthcare system. Our goal is to continually develop new strategies and evaluate existing initiatives to identify which types of services and community engagement is most appropriate and best aligns with the community's needs. We will partner with the faith community, DHEC, SC Thrives, Southeast Diabetes group, local hospitals, the Courage Navigator to manage intake and direct participants to appropriate services, seminars and works shop on physical and mental health concerns, exercise and stretch and flex classes, cooking classes, nutrition, weight management classes etc. Each Month we will highlight a specific health focus.
