Please explain how these funds will be used to provide a public benefit:

With all the challenging factors facing our community, WKF is expanding our community outreach efforts to increase the chances of teens/young adult via a mentoring and discovery program - Coalition of Community Fellows (CCF). This program is a catalyst to foster understanding, healing, and growth by building authentic relationships, changing existing narratives and advancing public policy solutions. Along with conflict resolution, anger management, anti-violent solution seeking and socially appropriate interactions, our participants will be ready for the workforce and the world. The Community Fellows are encouraged to define tools and strategies to develop their own vision for the future. This vision incorporates the development of personal and professional goals that: Increase one's sense of worth, Improve perspective toward all form of education, help develop and define participants short and long-term goals, support participants in reaching their goals, provide positive support and encouragement, and become self-sufficient, motivated adults.

The Coalition of Community Fellows promotes the pursuit of social justice and encourages students to develop the commitment and ability to work toward a more just society. Through these programs and strategies, a partnership will be built between government, civic and business organizations, law enforcement and residents. This program will empower young adults through mentorship as well as expose them to political and business systems and continuing conversation. The research will challenge them to discover and fulfill their highest potential.
