Please explain how these funds will be used to provide a public benefit:

With all the challenging factors facing our community, the Wiley Kennedy Foundation is expanding our community outreach efforts to improve outcomes for teens/young adults via a mentoring and discovery program - Coalition of Community Fellows (CCF). This program is a catalyst to foster understanding, healing, and growth by building authentic relationships, changing existing narratives and advancing public policy solutions. Along with conflict resolution, anger management, anti-violent solution seeking and socially appropriate interactions, our participants will be ready for the workforce and the world. The CCF promotes the pursuit of social justice and encourages students to develop the commitment and ability to work toward a more just society. The full participation of all citizens in America's society. Additionally, the WKF is developing a youth advisory council to empower young individuals to actively contribute to creating safer and more resilient communities. By harnessing the unique perspectives, skills, and energy of youth, the advisory board aims to address and mitigate safety challenges, foster community engagement, and promote positive change. Through these programs and strategies, a partnership will be built between government, civic and business organizations, law enforcement and residents. These programs will empower young adults through mentorship as well as expose them to judicial, political and business systems and continuing conversation(s). These initiatives will challenge them to discover and fulfill their highest potential.
